Pictures from the BBQ

Yesterday I had the privilege to attend the best planned & executed barbecue ever. For half an hour Carlos seemed to be everywhere at once, and then the fire was going, the meat salted, the drinks covered in ice, and everything else also at the ready. It's always great fun to see professionals at work! Orvil is starting the fire. Carlos, el rey de el asado Check out the girl-to-guy ratio. Football is mandatory ..... slingshot shooting plain fun. A survivor.
