Waiting for the paperwork

Gudrun in Santa Marta In order to leave the boat here until November it is necessary to import it temporarily. The mandatory boat inspection by the custom official was scheduled for last week Tuesday. Then Friday. Then Saturday. Then today, Monday, 08:30. So far nobody has showed up. Without the paperwork finished we can't go anywhere. I call Jorge, our official agent. He tells me that the new time is now 11:30. Cruising is waiting.
